

A Teaching by Kalu Rinpoche

We live in illusion and the appearance of things.

There is a reality. We are that reality.

When you understand this, you see that you are nothing, and being nothing, you are everything. That is all.

This teaching uses words and paradox to point to the reality that lies beyond words and paradox.